One of Skillypot Claim Bills Passed

Clause About Maintenance is Stricken Out and Walton Amendment to Condemnation Law Dies in Committee.

The bill of Senator Walton which will provide consequential damages in connection with the construction of the Rondout Creek Bridge, to be paid by the county of Ulster and the state of New York, passed by the senate and assembly in the closing hours of the legislative session last week and will now go to Governor Miller.

The bill which was passed is the one providing that any commission appointed to determine the compensation to be paid to the owners of land acquired in Ulster county to connect the Rondout Creek Bridge with the existing Port Ewen highway "shall also assess, allow and state any and all injuries and damages, both direct and consequential, which such owners or any of them may sustain."

The words "because of the execution of said plan and the maintenance and operation of said bridge," were stricken from the bill before it was passed by the legislature.

The other bill of Senator Walton which was designed to amend the condemnation law in relation to the consequential damages died in committee.

ACCORD LIKELY TO HAVE COMMUNITY CHURCH

Another Discussion To Be Held Wednesday.

There will be a mass meeting Wednesday evening, March 22, at 8 o'clock in the Odd Fellows Hall, Accord, for the purpose of definitely taking up the question of organizing a community church for Accord and vicinity. The members of the Dutch Reformed and Methodist churches and everybody else whether a member of any church or not are cordially invited to attend this meeting. The mass meeting held Monday afternoon, March 13, did not have a single voice raised against uniting the churches. Furthermore by actual vote it was manifest that the united church should not be the Dutch Reformed or the Methodist, but a new church with a new name. This coming mass meeting is to carry out this expressed desire for a united church under a new name. There is a real desire on the part of a great number of Accord and surrounding people to end this rivalry between the churches, and to get together in real fellowship as become followers of the Man of Galilee.

AUTOMOBILE SHOW PROGRAM PRESAGES BIG EXHIBITION

Contains More of Interest Than Even New York Show Program—Cost More Than Price of Admission And Is Worth Preserving.

Kingston's annual automobile show will be held in the state armory on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, and it will be bigger and better than ever, and one indication that that statement is true is shown by the official program of the show fresh off the presses of The Freeman job department. This program cost the Automotive Dealers of Kingston about fifty cents a copy. The program will be distributed free at the show so that those who attend will receive a program that is worth more than the price of admission to the show.

The official program for this year's show is not only larger and better than last year's program, but without question it is the biggest and best program ever gotten out for any auto show anywhere in the country. That this is true will be the discovery made by those who attend the big show.

From cover to cover the big program is filled with information that is of interest to all automobile owners. On page one is the index on which is listed everything contained in the program including a list of advertisers.

Scattered all through the book will be found items of interest such as the "Ten Commandments for Driving" and the "Thirteen Most Foolish Things a Driver Does."

A valuable feature of the program is the fact that it contains the city ordinance regulating traffic on the public streets, which is illustrated, and also the ordinance regulating parking of vehicles in the streets. These two ordinances should be carefully read by every auto driver as ignorance of the provisions contained in them will be found to be no excuse when arrested for any violation.

Various items of interest in regard to the state roads are also given.

Of course there will be music at the show furnished by the Imperial orchestra and the musical program for the three days will also be found in the official program.

One of the best things in the entire program is the complete story "Pull Over to the Curb" written by H. C. Witwer, the well known humorist whose stories are sure cures for the blues and whose work for the past few years has appeared in all of the leading magazines.

Another interesting feature is an article entitled "Hand Signals for Drivers" written by Dr. John A. Harriss, special deputy commissioner of New York city, in charge of traffic. This article is also illustrated and should be carefully read and studied by every automobilist.

Space forbids elaborating on the many other features of interest in the official program, but a word may be said of the mechanical excellence of the program. Paper of excellent quality has been used in printing the program, and the make-up is such as will appeal to all lovers of fine printing. The program is not a cheap book to be glanced at and then thrown aside, but typographically compares favorably with the best magazines on the market.

Leon E. Chambers was chairman of the program committee and the members were Peter A. Black, Frank L. Brown, J. D. Schenck, John P. Mack and J. P. Beichert. This committee deserves credit for being progressive enough to get out the finest program possible.

When it was decided to hold another auto show the program committee decided to show the other members of the Automotive Association just what a real live committee could do in getting out a program that would be even better than the one issued last season.

Leading merchants and business men of the city were seen and as a result the list of advertisers is in fact a list of the leading business houses in Kingston. Practically every line of business enterprise in Kingston is represented in the advertising columns. A careful perusal of the advertisements also shows that the business men realized that it was the intention of the program committee to issue a program that would set a record for other committees in the future to aspire to. The advertisements are not only well written specimens of the advertising art, but are arranged and displayed attractively.

From cover to cover the big program contains enough material to give any reader food for thought long after the show has passed into history. Every one who attends the show the last three days of this week should make it a point to obtain a program not only as a memento of Kingston's biggest and best auto show but for future reference for the information it contains.

SALVATION ARMY HOME SERVICE

The Salvation Army Service Station at 18 Hasbrouck avenue has been of a very successful nature, and will be continued as long as the need demands it. Adjutant George Rose says:

I wish to thank the people of Kingston for the loyal support of this Home Service Station, and I feel they would be gratified to know of the results. Thousands of garments and shoes have been distributed, and much furniture, stoves and groceries have been given away. Several young married folks, who were out of work, have had two and three rooms furnished, whole families have been clothed, and many given work. Many men looking for work, start the day by going to the Salvation Army first, and say "What have you in today?" There are still a number out of work, and are glad of little jobs, where they can earn, as one man said, enough to buy bread for the kiddies.

The huge store of clothing and shoes has become nearly exhausted, and Adjutant Rose has been requested by a number of friends to continue the Home Service Station.

THOMAS KILLED IN AUTO ACCIDENT

Catskill Man Dies Almost Instantly When Car Turns Over After Skidding Entering Saugerties—Son, Only Other Occupant, Hurt.

Winfred Thomas, fifty years old, a well known and respected business man of Catskill, was killed about 10:30 o'clock Sunday night when the Elgin Six car he was driving skidded and turned turtle on the wet roadway on the straightaway stretch leading to Saugerties just after making the turn at the junction of the Saugerties and Flatbush roads.

Mr. Thomas was accompanied by his son, Frank M. Thomas, who received minor injuries, consisting principally of abrasions of the shin and a bruised forehead. His father received a fracture of the skull over the left temple which caused almost instantaneous death.

Mr. Thomas and his son were returning home after having been in Kingston. The copious rain which was falling at the time made the highway exceedingly slippery but the car succeeded in negotiating all hills and turns successfully. After making the turn which begins at the junction of the Saugerties and Flatbush roads a short distance beyond Schoenlag's Hotel, the car was just entering the straight stretch at the place known as Mud Brook when it skidded, turned completely around and then overturned.

The son crawled from beneath the overturned car and procured help to lift the car from the body of his father, who was thought to be unconscious. On removal of the car, however, it was found that he was dead. Dr. C. L. Gannon of Glasco had been summoned by telephone as soon as Mr. Thomas notified neighbors of the accident and arrived promptly at the scene but found he could do nothing for the father, but he gave the son medical attention.

The body of the elder Thomas was taken in charge by Undertaker Norvin R. Lasher of Saugerties and later turned over to Undertaker Kortz of Catskill. Mrs. Thomas was notified of her husband's death and came to Saugerties, where she met her son and they returned to Catskill together.

Mr. Thomas was engaged in the business of selling and installing soda water fountains in various parts of Hudson river valley and also at times employed by an automobile concern as a pathfinder, whose duty it is to lay out the most feasible and attractive automobile routes. He was thoroughly familiar with the operation of an automobile. It is considered probable that in making the turn of the road, which is slightly downgrade, he shut off his power but stepped on the gas as he began the slight incline leading to the straightaway stretch, which caused the car to skid. Several years ago another fatality occurred at practically the same spot.

The damage to the car driven by Mr. Thomas was comparatively slight and by direction of Chief of Police Richter of Saugerties the car was towed to a Saugerties garage for safe keeping.

Coroner W. Norman Conner of this city, was notified of the accident and made an investigation.

NEWEST DEER DEAD AT FORSYTH

Buck Who Already Had a Mate, Evidently Didn't Want a Harem, and Fatally Pawed Doe Caught on Strand.

Al Whispell's deer, which is one of the attractions at Forsyth Park, is not a Mormon and when the board of public works in its ignorance of that fact, placed the doe recently captured on the Strand in the same enclosure with Al's buck, and Al's buck's wife, the buck inflicted injuries on the newcomer with his hoofs which resulted in the death of the new lady deer on Saturday afternoon.

The new deer was captured on the Strand near the Rhinebeck ferry on Monday, March 6, after it had jumped the high fence adjoining the office of the William J. Turck Company. It became bewildered, tried to enter a lunch room, then backed out and became tangled up with an automobile and finally was captured after an exciting struggle. Game Warden Fred DeWitt, who was notified of the capture, communicated with the state conservation commission at Albany, by whose direction the doe was placed in Forsyth Park, to keep company with Al Whispell's deer and the latter's doe.

When the newcomer was placed in the deer enclosure at Forsyth Park, the buck immediately attacked it with its front hoofs, apparently resenting the addition of any new members of the deer family as an intrusion. The men who placed the doe there at once removed her to another part of the enclosure while they went for lumber with which to fence off a separate section for the new addition, but when they returned they found the buck pawing the almost exhausted doe with its front hoofs. The doe was placed in a separate part of the deer park where she would be safe from attack, but the injuries she received at that time resulted fatally on Saturday.

The buck which is known as Al's deer, was presented to the city by Mr. Whispell, the genial Phoenicia sportsman and hotel proprietor, several years ago, after Forsyth Park had been developed by Mayor Canfield and the board of public works. A doe was later added to the deer park and Al's deer and the doe have furnished interest to thousands of visitors at the park. Park visitors have hoped that the park in time might have other additions which would prove attractive and the action of the state conservation commission in directing the doe recently caught on the Strand to be turned over to the board of public works met with general approval.

Nobody has yet been able to learn where the doe came from. When it jumped the fence adjoining the Turck Company's lumber office it had come apparently from the high road along the hill above the Ulster & Delaware Railroad yard, and undoubtedly had been enjoying the shelter of Lindsley's woods. It is thought that it came from the Catskill Mountains, and probably sought Kingston in search of food.

President Orders U. S. Troops Out of Rhineland

Last Doughboy to be Out of Germany by July 1—Allies' Desire to Keep German Money Due U. S. for Troops Upkeep Largely Responsible for Withdrawal.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Washington, March 20.—The disposition of the Allied powers to haggle over the American bill for $241,000,000 for keeping the American troops on the Rhine resulted today in President Harding issuing an order for the withdrawal of all American forces from the German Rhineland.

The troops, Secretary of War Weeks announced, will be brought home as fast as available transport services can bring them, and it is expected the last American doughboy will be out of German territory by July 1.

There are now approximately 4,000 American officers and men in the American sector of the Rhineland, according to army figures.

In making the announcement of the president's action, the war department stated that "it had been in the president's mind for some time." No reference was made to the pending army bill, which stipulates that the troops shall be withdrawn, or to the controversy with the Allies over the $241,000,000, but it is known that the president's action was accelerated by these factors, as well as by the outspoken demand of Democrats and Republicans alike in the senate that the troops be returned forthwith.

It was stated also that the prompt action of the American government in ordering troops home might have an effect in speeding up the adjustment of the American claim against the Allies.

The state department is now preparing, if it has not already despatched, identic notes to the Allied governments setting forth the American claim with considerable vigor. It will be pointed out emphatically that the United States did not want to send her troops into the Rhineland in the first instance, but did so only on the earnest solicitation of the Allied governments. For them now to haggle over the reimbursement of this government, which is guaranteed under the terms of the armistice, is an "unusual proceeding," the American note will state.

The official announcement said:

"Some months ago, the president directed that the troops in Europe at least in excess of 2,000 officers and men, should be returned to the United States by the regular transport service, which was then and is now in operation. He has now directed that this service be continued until all of the troops have been brought to the United States, which would mean that before the end of the fiscal year the entire force will have been returned. Additional transports will not be operated to complete this movement."

"Come at once"

HAVE you ever received this message in the middle of the night?

Perhaps it concerned someone dear to you lying ill in the hospital.

Messages like that have a way of arriving in the middle of the night. Grim, urgent, fearsome messages!

But the fact that it is night does not cripple your quick answer to that call.

Instantly, with one movement of your hand, your house is lighted, making great speed possible. On the way to the hospital the streets, with their brilliant lamps, give you encouragement. The world is not so dark a place after all.

The great hospital, itself, is throbbing with activity.

Science, surgeons, nurses no longer wait for daytime to aid them in relieving pain—in saving lives.

The operating room, with its great white lights and the X-ray apparatus, is as busy at two in the morning as at ten.

The marvelous advance in delicate surgery is due in no small degree to the recent application of electricity to the needs of science.

Out of your anxiety on such a night comes a realization of how electricity is helping you, and helping that loved one in the hospital.

Behind all this light—what? Every single electric bulb in the country glows against the background of huge dams and water turbines (in the case of water power), or the tremendous boilers, turbines, engines and generators (in steam plants) and against the wires of high-tension transmission lines and the innumerable smaller wires stretching like a web from your very bedside out over the whole country.

And still behind these—what?

A thrilling story of thrift and investment. The story of some 1,450,000 men and women who by their thrift are investing millions of dollars in the electric light and power industry. These investors not only provide for themselves a steady income, but for their fellow citizens a service that today is an absolute necessity to our business and social life.

SCHERMERHORN DESCRIBES MOTOR TRIP TO FLORIDA

Editor, The Freeman:

An interesting trip to Florida by automobile made recently by myself and E. R. Ackerly of Cohoes, through the state of Pennsylvania by William Penn highway by the Delaware Water Gap and Bangor Sleight mines, Bushkill Falls, Portland Mount Bethel, Phillipsburgh, Easton, Reading, Harrisburg and Gettysburg; Maryland state by Mason and Dixon highway through Thurmont, Harmony-Grove and Frederick; Virginia state, Washington, D. C., by way of Alexandria, Fredericksburgh, Spottsylvania, Ashland, Richmond, Petersburgh, Lawrenceville, and South Hill; North Carolina, by way of Henderson, Franklyntown, Youngville, Raleigh, Sanford, Southern Pines, Lexington and Cheron; South Carolina, by way of Camden, Columbia, Aiken, Warrenburgh, Clearwater and Augusta; Georgia by way of Sylvania, Savannah, Springfield and Brunswick; Florida by way of Jacksonville, St. Augustine, City of Brunnell, Hastings, Daytona. We stayed here a few days. Mr. Ackely not feeling well and thinking the climate was not agreeing with him, said he would start north very soon if he did not feel better. Mr. Schermerhorn going on to West Palm Beach, and says Florida is a remarkable state. It has nine hundred thousand population, six hundred thousand white, three hundred thousand colored. Thirty-five million acres of land and fourteen hundred miles of coastline. Florida has had much history, perhaps it is impossible to find such a variety in any other state of the union. It has had four periods of history under Spain, one under France, one under England, one under the confederate states, and three under the stars and stripes, the dates run about as follows: Spain had it from 1559 to 1718. France had it from 1718 to 1723. Spain again had it from 1723 to 1763, Great Britain had it from 1763 to 1781. Spain again had it from 1781 to 1818. United States had it from 1818 to 1819. Spain again had it from 1819 to 1821, United States had it from 1821 to 1861. Southern Confederacy had it from 1861 to 1865, United States again has had it from 1865 to the present time. The wonderful natural resources together with its balmy climate have made the state a treasure to be sought after by many nations, newest of all the sister—and if science is right she is the baby of the family of states but she is growing and developing rapidly. Two million acres of soil composed entirely of decayed vegetable matter in many places 12 to 14 feet deep are now being reclaimed and the once trackless Everglades, home of the Seminole and alligators, is being developed and planted and is producing crops in profusion and abundance. Sugar cane growing while only in its infancy has not only made excellent profits for the growers but has interested the big sugar companies of the world as a competitor of the Cuban and Louisiana fields and millions are being spent in developing this most needed crop.

West Palm Beach has a population of about thirteen thousand, covers approximately nine thousand acres and has a city management commission form of government. During the past few years West Palm Beach has grown very rapidly. It is ideally situated, about one mile from the Atlantic ocean and Palm Beach where it is claimed the warm blue waters of the gulf stream pass closer to the shore than at any other point in the United States. The location is 300 miles south of Jacksonville, 200 miles further south than the southernmost point of California, flowers blossom 365 days of the year, bathing is pleasant and the ocean water said to be never less than 70 degrees Fahrenheit. West Palm Beach is about 8 miles long, over two and one half miles wide and is the natural gateway to the Everglades with highway and water transportation already established. Palm Beach just across Lakeworth is one of the few places in Florida where cocoanut palm thrive.

Kelly Saved Horse Broken Leg and It Gave Him One.

After acting as a good Samaritan several days ago, Sidney A. Kelly of Margaretville received a curious reward. Mr. Kelly drives an automobile for hire. While driving near Margaretville he discovered that one of a team horses of Robert Dowie of New Kingston had gone through the plank of a small bridge and its foot was fast. He procured an axe and cut the plank until the horse could loosen itself. Throughout the chopping process the horse never moved, but as soon as its foot was free it kicked Mr. Kelly with sufficient force to fracture both bones of one of Mr. Kelly's legs.

NEWBURGH GAME IS IN DISPUTE

Scorers Didn't Keep Check on Each Other and Although Kingston Scorer Made Newburgh Winner, Game May be Replayed.

Saturday's game between the Newburgh Academy Five and the K. H. S. Five will probably go to a protest and will be replayed as a discrepancy in the score books of each side denote the fact that the scorers did not keep check on each other. The final score according to the Kingston book stood 15-14 in Newburgh's advantage. According to the Newburgh book the score stood 14 all. But it appears that as Kingston was the visiting team and Newburgh's official scorer saw fit to call the game a draw, an extra period should have been played to determine the final victor.

The game was one of the slowest to behold as the referee's defection toward complimentary shooting put the bleachers to sleep. During the first half of the game the Kingstonians did not make a single basket and the Hill City lads only made one.

The combat did not show any speed until the final period when the affair took on such alarming speed that the discrepancy was undoubtedly executed during the revival of pep.

The score was finally announced according to the Kingston official's tally 15-14 and both teams left the floor acclaiming the Academy boys the victors when the difference was noted and the teams were recalled. Some discussion followed and Mr. Buley showed that the rule book declared in such a matter that the team having the smallest score should be awarded the game and it is Mr. Buley's intention to fight the matter to the end.

The score according to the Kingston official scorer's tally:

"Yes—but I had to do it."

FOOLING OURSELVES.

If "Daylight Saving" saved anything, there would be an excuse for continuing it for another year. But instead of saving, it is a losing proposition for Kingston, whose business cannot suffer continued losses in a period when business depression compels every person and every community to stop all leaks.

Alone among the communities of Ulster county, Kingston is asked to stand again for a "Daylight Saving" ordinance which was adopted last year under the false plea that it was necessary to help the railroads run their trains. The railroads did not adopt "Daylight Saving." They continued to run their trains according to Standard time which prevailed everywhere outside of New York city and a few other municipalities which like Kingston were bamboozled into a freak time system which benefited nobody but which on the contrary caused untold exasperation and profanity.

Every person who lived under "Daylight Saving" in Kingston last summer can recall innumerable instances of misunderstandings of a serious nature which resulted from the idiotic idea that Kingston could adopt a time clock by which the rest of the world would regulate itself. There was a constant confusion and dissatisfaction not only for the people who came here to transact business but also for Kingstonians. It is impossible to estimate either the loss of time or the actual money-loss, but will anybody try to deny them? Is there anybody who can point out benefits that balanced these losses?

If "Daylight Saving" is beneficial, why did the United States government drop it like a hot stove-lid? Why didn't the rest of the country keep it up? Why did the state of New York emasculate it by substituting a local option bill in its place? Why didn't all parts of the state adopt the "Saving" a year ago? Why did so many communities which began the season with "Daylight Saving" abandon it before the end of the summer? There must be a reason for these things. Any advocate of "Daylight Saving" for Kingston for this year should be willing to explain all these things before the asinine scheme of wastefulness is forced on the city again.

We are told the city of Baltimore may adopt "Daylight Saving." Will that benefit Kingston or will Kingston be performing a Good Samaritan act for Baltimore if we retain the foolish ordinance? The situation is the same regarding New York city. Kingston must look out for herself. Our business comes from a section which has universally condemned "Daylight Saving" and refuses to fool itself regarding the correct time by setting its clocks and watches an hour fast. The big vacation-land around us caters to the tourist and summer boarder and we are looking for a share of that business. But can we expect to get it by acting like a bump on a log? The tourist and vacationist travels according to Standard time. Does Kingston raise itself in their estimation by projecting a different time and asking the world to be guided by it? Will it pay?

This is a simple business proposition made at a time when the men who are charged with the responsibility of government should not overlook the business advantages or disadvantages to the community that will result from their action. There is no more pleasing prospect than the sight of people congregating to enjoy themselves, but is the pursuit of pleasure to be the standard by which business affairs shall be administered at a time when business, financial and economic conditions are so unstable? If we retain "Daylight Saving" this year we will not be fooling the rest of the world. We will fool only ourselves. Is business so brisk that we can afford to juggle finances? Will it pay?

Mr. Balfour has been made a knight of the Garter in reward for what he did for England at the Washington conference. The Princess Mary is equally deserving of reward for her services to her country in marrying outside of royalty. It is true that she thus escaped the difficult task of finding a suitable royal mate, now that the Hohenzollerns, Hapsburgs and Romanoffs are no more, but she has helped the British monarchy through a crisis caused by the revolutionary tide accompanying and following the war. The British royal family has once more served its own interests by taking the advice of the shrewd commoners in active control of the government. British royalty, like the acting British government itself, knows how to be quietly condescending and flattering, without so appearing on the surface, when there is much to be gained.

According to ex-Senator Kenyon, former leader of the farm bloc, there is a "deep-seated and definite feeling that unless the two great parties better serve the American people they will try out some new party." There is plenty of dissatisfaction, but in this country political seceders seem to be unable to secure a sufficient following. Even Theodore Roosevelt failed to lead a third party to victory.

What do you want to know about Nature Subjects? Send any questions of general interest to the Nature Notes Department of this paper. Look for answers in this column.

Can You Answer These Questions?

1. Do we have native silk worms in America?

2. If, as you state, small frogs, fishes and lizards cannot be dropped from clouds how do you account for an occurence where after a heavy summer rain the ground was found covered with angleworms, and a big milk pail on a platform showed a bunch of them coiled when the milk was poured out at the creamery?

3. How do birds that gulp down a whole fish at a time, like kingfishers and sea gulls, manage the bones and scales?

Answers In Tomorrow's Nature Notes.

Answers To Previous Questions.

1. We have several bob-tail cats in the neighborhood. Are they wholly cat, or is there a mixture of rabbit, as some believe?

Wholly cat. You see a picture of the Manx cat, with rudimentary tail, in an unabridged dictionary. If this strain has been introduced in the neighborhood, it will appear in descending generations, where common cats have crossed with Manx blood. Cats and rabbits do not cross, being members of entirely different orders, feline and rodent.

2. What soil is best for a Christmas cactus, and does it require much water?

We do not recognize the plant by this name. If really a cactus, it should have dry, sandy soil, resembling the regions where cacti are most common. A cactus should be watered very little while dormant, but when in flower it will take up a good deal of water. If a Christmas Rose is the plant meant, it should have good soil and be grown in the shade, as under a tree. The latter is a hardy perennial, properly called Helleborus niger, and will bloom in a fairly cool climate in winter.

3. Are swimming birds ever bothered with lice?

Yes, infested with Mallophaga, just as other birds often are. The reason the vermin are not drowned out is that the elastic under feathers in the water bird's coat is not penetrated by water, and it holds in enough air to protect the lice.

THE REV. MR. KNAPP PREACHES AT ST. JOHN'S

There were large congregations at the services at St. John's Episcopal Church on Sunday, to greet the new rector the Rev. Edward M. H. Knapp, B. D., who with Mrs. Knapp arrived in Kingston on Saturday.

A graduate of Hobart College and the Theological Seminary of New York, the Rev. Mr. Knapp was for eleven years vicar of the Church of the Incarnation, New York city, going in the fall of 1920 to St. Mark's Church, Augusta, Maine, from which parish he came directly to Kingston. During his pastorate in New York city, Mr. Knapp was chaplain of the fire department of that city.

A forceful preacher, the vestry and congregation of St. John's Church feel that they are to be congratulated in securing the Rev. Mr. Knapp as rector. Owing to the fact that Mr. and Mrs. Knapp will be unabled to get established in the rectory this week, there will be but one Lenten service at the church, on Friday evening at the usual hour.

The program opens with Evans and Massart, comedians, in snappy puns and novelty numbers, Talbot and Myers, singing comedians, the Melody Six, a sextet of musical folks, assisted by a girl soprano; Lew and Paul Murdock in a dance revue and Claire and Atwood, novelty couple. Clara Kimball Young in "What No Man Knows" is the photoplay attraction tonight and Tuesday.

At Keeney's tonight and Tuesday a story of a girl married once for love and once again to forget love, Anita Stewart in "Playthings of Destiny," with a cast including Herbert Rawlinson, Walter McGrail and the screen child, Dick Headrick.

Ora Carew in "Beyond Crossroads" is the photoplay at the Auditorium tonight, also a snappy comedy and Fox News Weekly. Tuesday the story of the upper crust "Shams of Society."

"The Journey's End," an adaption of the story, "Ave Maria," is the attraction at the Colonial Theater tonight, also Ann Little in the exciting chapter play, "The Blue Fox." Tuesday Owen Moore in "Made in Heaven."

"Anne of Little Smoky" will be the photoplay at the Orpheum this evening. The vaudeville attractions will be Mme. Zita and Company, novelty posing; Jack Edwards, monologist; Gertie Miller Trio, singing and dancing and McKay and Sisters, Scotch singing and dancing.

The Orpheum Theatre management has arranged for a return engagement in the near future of the Mattice Stock Company who played here the past week. There will be an entire change of plays.

OUR DAILY PATTERN.

A Pretty Frock For The Growing Girl.

Pattern 3772 is here charmingly illustrated. It is cut in 4 sizes: 6, 8, 10, and 12 years. A 10 year size will require 5⅞ yards of 27 inch material.

Lawn, dimity, organdy, voile, batiste, crepe de chine and gingham are all attractive for this style. The panel may be omitted and the sleeve finished in wrist or elbow length.

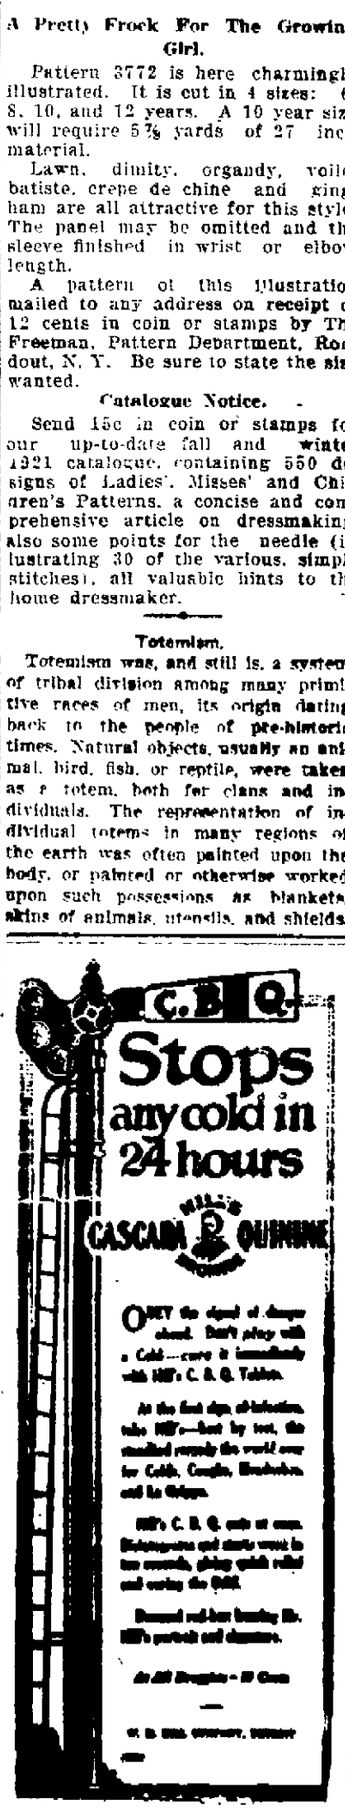

A pattern of this illustration mailed to any address on receipt of 12 cents in coin or stamps by The Freeman, Pattern Department, Rondout, N. Y. Be sure to state the size wanted.

Catalogue Notice.

Send 15c in coin or stamps for our up-to-date fall and winter 1921 catalogue, containing 550 designs of Ladies', Misses' and Children's Patterns, a concise and comprehensive article on dressmaking, also some points for the needle (illustrating 30 of the various, simple stitches), all valuable hints to the home dressmaker.

Totemism.

Totemism was, and still is, a system of tribal division among many primitive races of men, its origin dating back to the people of pre-historic times. Natural objects, usually an animal, bird, fish, or reptile, were taken as a totem, both for clans and individuals. The representation of individual totems in many regions of the earth was often painted upon the body, or painted or otherwise worked upon such possessions as blankets, skins of animals, utensils, and shields.

A World-Wide Preference

No less than half of all the Hupmobile sales in America are being made to owners of other cars.

That shows how far the fame of this car has gone beyond its own immediate circle—which is always growing and keeps on coming back for the Hupmobile.

This conversion of other owners means that the Hupmobile has been singled out for particular preference because of its reliability.

By that we mean the everlasting regularity of performance and service, the consistent economy and efficiency, which have always stamped the Hupmobile an extraordinary motor car value.

SENIORS BUSY AT HIGH SCHOOL

Thursday afternoon the Prisma Society met to close arrangements for the forthcoming Hamilton Glee Club concert to be given in this city Friday evening, March 31. The glee club is representative of Hamilton College, the alma mater of Mr. Lewis and Mr. Newton and has established a wonderful reputation for its highly pleasing performances. The glee club has appeared here in previous years.

But a bit of the silent drama is being enacted by the varsity debating team for the "coup de mots" to be pulled off at Poughkeepsie High School next Friday evening. The negative side of the question, "Resolved, That the United States should grant immediate independence to the Philippines" will be upheld by the Kingston team. The locals Arthur Flemming, leader, Carl Schantz, Blair Muller and John Tremper, have been working diligently, away from the public eye, among the musty archives and the still-wet publications relating to the Philippine problem wherever they could be found. Also, the rehearsing of speeches, poise and delivery have been practiced and at last the machine is ready to be placed on the market. School spirit is also in evidence in this matter as auto busses have been chartered to take the students to Poughkeepsie for the fracas and it will be one of life's little tragedies if the maroon and white colors are not symbolic of victory.

The "Maroon" work is coming along in excellent style. The students in the various departments of the staff are turning our their work for the boiling-down process and the final revision before the material is sent to the publisher. As for the Pennington side of the affair only a few students remain who have not had their maps surveyed and if these students want any kind of service from the studios it ill-behooves them to hold off much longer.

The "Maroon" essay, story and poem contest closes the first Friday in April after which time the judges will take charge of the weeding-out process and pass upon the best submissions.

Behind the scenes in the forthcoming production of "Pomander Walk," all is hustle and bustle and din. The Seniors who are to be the actors in this affair are just beginning to taste of what it means to attend rehearsals and to quote one line perhaps a half a hundred times in order to produce the desired effect. But cheerfulness is the key note of the whole affair and the anticipation to put something great across is going to make the affair a huge success. For, let it be remembered, the students in this play are doing just as much, in a material way, to make the "Maroon" a "best seller" as the staff whose creation it is.

In a Senior meeting it was agreed upon to assess each student with five tickets for the play which he, or she, must sell or turn over an equal amount to the treasurer, Fred Carr. The play is booked for May 5, and soon the tickets will be placed on sale in view of the expected demand for seats.

The play will be a comedy of an highly amusing nature and not the pie throwing type which ends happily for all concerned by the steel magnate's daughter marrying the bootlegger.

Manager Kenneth LeFevre, of the 1921 football squad has compiled the following schedule for the eleven. As the schedule now stands four home games will be played with the precaution having been taken to have the Poughkeepsie team play here for the second scheduled game between the schools. Mr. McIntyre, who hopes to be the mentor next season, is desirous of having the locals play in his home town, Geneva. But this game is in the balance as arrangements for a game to be played at Binghamton are pending. If Port Jervis concedes to the locals' wishes a game will be played with that institution October 7. The other open dates will soon be filled.

The schedule:

October 7—Open.

October 14—Kingston at Poughkeepsie.

October 21—Newburgh at Kingston.

October 28—Saratoga Springs at Kingston.

November 4—Poughkeepsie at Kingston.

November 11—Kingston at Newburgh.

November 18—Kingston at Binghamton or Geneva.

November 25—Open.

November 30—Glens Falls at Kingston.

Friday morning passed away on the "Last of the Seniors" who, having received the "black spot" and having answered thereto, will be succeeded by the Juniors who will take the rostrum to chide the student body with their oracular utterances. Those who officiated at the inquest were, firstly, Tayler Bernholz who expatiated upon George Washington who probably blushed with modesty as his praise ascended roof-ward. Then Martha Barnett took up the reins of elocution and commendably recited something beautiful about the lily. As if to get up to modern events Francis Martin startled the assemblage with some of Thomas A. Edison's declarations to the effect that, given time, the human race will see the era when poverty will no more be.

But Friday assumed a different aspect when, hailing St. Patrick, the students appeared bedecked in shamrocky-looking creations of jazz bow neck wear and green habiliment. To meet the current demand for a green expression, and also to make a bit of money as a side issue, the Prisma girls sold dozens of emerald carnations. The Freshmen were by no means the greenest in school. The revelry also broke out in song when Miss Alice McLaughlin was announced to garnish the program with some Irish ballads which she sang very nicely. The numbers sung by Miss "Mickey" were "Mavourneen" and "The Wearing of the Green."

A mass meeting was called Friday noon to stimulate the sale of tickets for the evening's recital as Mr. Lewis explained that each ticket sold was money for the Athletic Association, as sufficient number of seats had been checked off to insure the required guarantee. As a direct appeal to the students to support the athletic organizations, Chester R. Hall, of the "Y," told of the school spirit evidenced at his high school alma mater, which boasted of a senior class with only sixteen boys in it and not many more girls. The boys that go out on the field to represent the school in the various branches of sport deserve the whole hearted support of the student body as the reputation of the school is at stake.

Thursday morning Mr. Michael gave a friendly talk to the assemblage upon the necessity of maintaining a strict silence throughout the performance of Friday evening, since the best that is in the artists can only be displayed through a proper sympathetic attention. Mr. Michael declared that he had as a friend a very great artist who used to leave the piano in the midst of a recital if he caught the faintest semblance of whispering prevalent in the audience.

The meeting of the Central Hudson Valley Physical Directors' Association was held Saturday morning with a slight attendance of 11 members. Due to the inadequate train service between the hours of 7 o'clock and 9 a. m., the majority of the directors could not make connections. Directors were present from Haverstraw, Poughkeepsie, Newburgh and Kingston, and because of sudden indisposition the president was unable to attend.

A round table discussion was held on the physical education law of New York state and physical stunts. It was decided in the meeting that next year three meetings be held.

SAMSONVILLE.

Samsonville, March 20.—Joseph Mayer who bought the Bide-a-Wee Farm, is expected here on or about April 15th for the summer. Mrs. Mayer has been here during the winter.

Frank N. Davis was in Kingston Monday.

Harland Kelder is moving to Kerhonkson.

Mrs. J. Mayer entertained company from Olive Bridge on Tuesday, Mr. and Mrs. Sadler and lady friend.

The roads are in rather bad condition in this section. A few days' work now opening the crossways and ditches to let the water out would save dollars later on. There has been very little attention given to some of the back roads of late and the people that are compelled to use them and pay taxes are soon going to kick. There are places now impassable on many of the main roads and plenty of material in sight to repair them.

The Joy of Hardships.

After a man has once succeeded he always gets a lot of pleasure recalling the struggles and failures he has been through.

A GOOD TONIC FOR OLD PEOPLE

Gude's Pepto-Mangan Restores Strength and Prevents Illness

Aged people often need a good blood tonic. When the blood becomes clogged with poisons from the system, Gude's Pepto-Mangan purifies it by driving off the waste matter. Good blood is full of vitality and prevents illness, giving the body greater power of resistance. The weaknesses of old age are greatly helped by a supply of rich, red blood. Gude's Pepto-Mangan is sold in liquid or tablet form by all druggists. It has been recommended by physicians for 30 years and is a valuable tonic and builder for the weak and run-down of all ages from childhood to old age.—Advertisement.

Minor Musings.

Husband and wife may argue as to who is "boss" of the house for a while, but not after the first child comes.

A Texas City widow says the reason she broke her last engagement was because her fiance was named Rice, and the doctor had warned her to cut out cereals.

"Jack says he just loves to play with my hair."

"Then why don't you let him take it home sometime?"

Our Complicated Language.

She was from Boston, he from Oklahoma. "You have traveled a great deal in the west, have you not, Miss Bacon?"

"Oh, yes, indeed—in California and Arizona and even in New Mexico."

"And did you ever see the Cherokee strip?"

There was a painful silence, but finally she looked over her glasses at him and said: "Sir, I deem your question exceedingly rude."

"Mother, do people in mourning wear black night-gowns?"

"Why, no, Willie."

"Well, don't they feel just as badly at night as they do in the day time?"

Who Remembers

The good little boy who would run errands for a penny?

"The doctor told me that I must take a rest."

"What are you going to do?"

"Oh, just quit golf and tend to my business."

Another Victim

This is the dope on Chauncey McMann.

Speed was his curse, he came home in a hearse.

The Knocker.

After God had finished making the rattlesnake, the toad and the vampire, he had some awful substance left of which he made a knocker. A knocker is a two-legged animal with a corkscrew soul and a water-soaked brain and combination backbone made of jelly and glue. Where other men have their hearts he carries a tumor of decayed brains. When the knocker comes down the street, honest men turn their back, the angels weep tears in heaven and the devil shuts the gates of hell to keep him out.

"Gather about me, Snakes," said Mr. Snake, "and I will talk about ourselves.

"Some creatures don't like to talk about us, so it is well that we like to talk about ourselves. If we didn't, it would be very sad indeed.

"What if one were a snake and didn't even want to talk about snakes. Luckily I've never known such a snake, and I don't believe there is such a snake.

"It is enough that so many people shudder and say, 'Oh, dear, don't let's talk about snakes.'

"Yes, that is the way many people act when any one speaks of us. It is very rude of them I say.

"When any one speaks of people I do not hiss and say, 'Oh, dear me, don't let's talk of those horrid two-legged creatures.'

"I never say anything like that at all. I am too polite. In fact I consider myself too well-bred to say anything of that sort.

"We're really very interesting. We have lovely colors at times. Lovely indeed.

"We have interesting relations. There are our sea relations, the Sea Snakes. What a fascinating family they are.

"They can make their own light in the water and can swim along by using their bristles. They use their bristles just as people use paddles when they go canoeing or oars when they go rowing.

"They can really make the sea look bright with their power of showing a wonderful light at times.

"They are very wonderful. They go through the water so quickly and yet they swim only with the aid of these bristle-like fins.

"They have many enemies, too. The sea spiders and the lobsters hate these relations.

"Yes, they hate them, but then the lobster is a very snobbish creature.

"Too many people have spoilt Mr. Lobster. They have said he was so delicious and marvelous to eat that Mr. Lobster thinks that the sun rises and sets with him."

"Hiss, hiss, hiss," said the other snakes, "what in the world do you mean?"

"We see, hiss, hiss," said the other snakes.

"Well," said Mr. Snake, "the sea snakes breathe through tiny gills which are along their backs. They don't need anything else with which to breathe.

"People say such untrue things about us, too," continued Mr. Snake. "They say that we can fascinate birds and creatures so that they just stare at us, and so they can't do anything to help themselves.

"That is a foolish story and it is nothing more or less than gossip.

"Now if I were free I'd sleep for the winter, but because I'm in the zoo where it is warm I do not sleep for the whole winter. I will say though that I have been drowsy and sleepy lately and have had some nice snake dreams."

"So have we," said the other snakes.

"Yes," said Mr. Snake. "I've dreamt of changing my skin and the dream was as pleasant as a person's might be who was dreaming of a new suit.

"I was dreaming of how fine and handsome and big I was becoming and that I'd need a new suit for I was outgrowing the one I had.

"My dream will come true, for I am going to get a new suit before long."

"So are we," said the other snakes.

"And I had the same dream, too," said the snake in the next cage.

"So did I," said another snake.

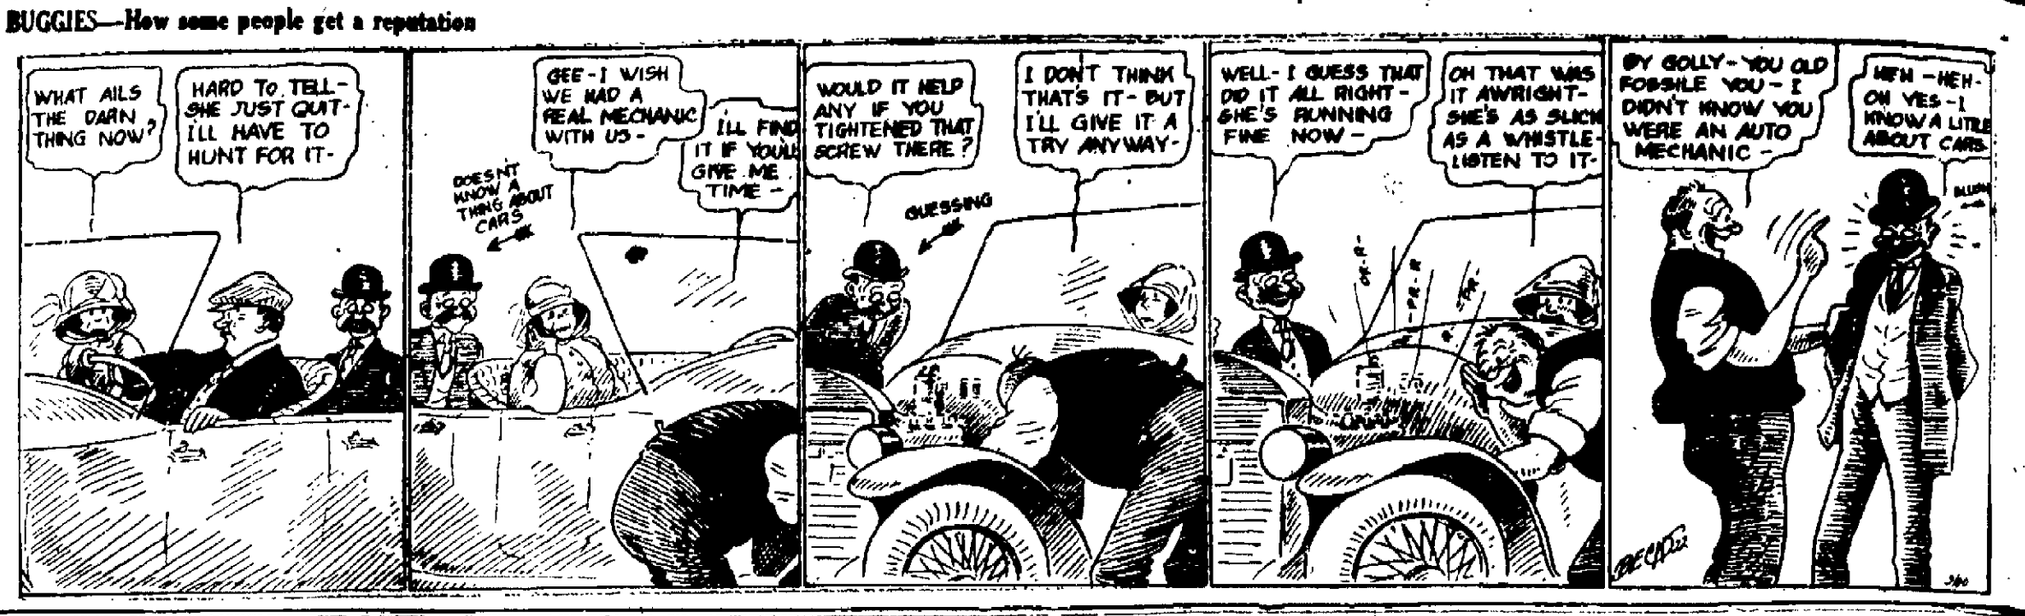

"So did I," said all of the snakes in turn who were awake then and who had been listening to Mr. Snake's talk.

Of course when he had told them to gather around him he had meant that he wanted to have them all listen to him, for they couldn't get much nearer because they were in separate cages.

"A new suit," hissed Mr. Snake, "a beautiful new suit, and yet creatures can dislike us when we're so neat and so dressy!"

"Hiss, hiss, it is hard to understand," said the other snakes.

GAS BUGGIES—How some people get a reputation

The KITCHEN CABINET

Copyright, 1922, Western Newspaper Union.

What do you think the wind says as it whistles in the sky,
Making the dead leaves dance and spin, throwing them up on high;
What does it say in the branches, tossing them to and fro?
"Come out and play," it whistles, as the seasons come and go.

EVERYDAY GOOD THINGS

Those who find the ordinary baked beans hard to digest will enjoy these:

Baked Lima Beans.—Soak a cupful of dried lima beans in water over night. In the morning drain and cover with boiling water and when cool repeat the process once more. Slip off the skins and place the beans in a baking dish, adding salt, pepper, and cover with scalding milk. Cover the dish and bake slowly for two hours. When the milk is all absorbed, remove the cover and dot with bits of butter and leave uncovered until a delicate brown. Serve in the baking dish.

Prune Souffle.—Put two cupfuls of prunes cooked and stoned through a colander. Beat the whites of three eggs to a stiff froth, add four tablespoonfuls of sugar and the prunes. Pour into a well-greased pudding dish and set in a dish of hot water in a moderate oven. Bake until the pudding sets. Serve sprinkled with chopped nuts.

Oysters With Rice.—Line buttered ramekins with boiled seasoned rice; cook a pint of oysters until their edges curl, chop rather coarsely, season with salt and pepper and moisten with the oyster liquor. Brush with melted butter and set in a hot oven to brown.

Raisin Drop Cakes.—Take three-fourths of a cupful of butter, one cupful of sugar, one egg, one teaspoonful of soda, one-half cupful of hot coffee, three cupfuls of flour, three teaspoonfuls of baking powder, a little salt, one teaspoonful of vanilla, one cupful of citron, raisins and walnuts mixed. Prepare as usual and drop by spoonfuls on buttered sheet. Bake in a moderate oven.

Cottage Pineapple Salad.—Take equal parts of cottage cheese and drained shredded pineapple. Add cream to the cheese to season, as well as salt, and a bit of sugar, if needed. Mold into balls and pile on lettuce. Garnish with red cherries.

WHO'S WHO BACK OF AUTO SHOW

The Automotive Dealers of Kingston Is a Live Wire Organization, and They Will Stage Best Ever Auto Show Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

With the annual automobile show opening on Thursday in the state armory on Broadway, the question naturally arises as to who's who back of the big show, and the answer: The Automotive Dealers of Kingston, one of the livest organizations of the city. Henry Stryker is president of the organization with Roy M. Sutliff, vice president; Lewis Brown, treasurer, and Charles N. Behrens, secretary.

When it was decided to make the automobile show an annual event in Kingston no efforts were spared to make each show better than the previous one, and as a result each show surpasses the others. PLANS FOR CITY'S 50TH ANNIVERSARY

The Rev. Dr. Seeley To Make Main Address With Brief Historical Sketch By Judge Clearwater—City Flag To Be Shown—Celebration To Be In Nature of a Thanksgiving.

A full meeting of the committee appointed by Mayor Crane to arrange for a commemoration of the fiftieth anniversary of the incorporation of the city on the evening of Sunday, April 9, was held at the common council chamber in the city hall Saturday afternoon, the mayor presiding.

It was first proposed that the principal feature should be an address by Judge Clearwater, the city historian but this promptly was vetoed by the judge who said that was not in accord with his suggestion to the mayor which was that the meeting should take the form of a grateful acknowledgment of the blessings Providence has showered upon the city during the first half century of its existence. After a thorough consideration it was agreed Mayor Crane should preside. On the motion of Father Neumann of St. Peter's, Dean Hickey, rector of St. Mary's, was selected to make the invocation. On the motion of Dr. Baragwanath, pastor of St. James, it was decided that Judge Clearwater should make a brief historical address and that Dr. Seeley of the Fair Street Reformed Church should make the principal address. On motion of Rev. Arthur S. Cole of the Albany Avenue Baptist Church, Dr. Ellis of the Rondout Presbyterian Church was chosen to read the scriptural lesson, and on Dr. Ellis's motion, Rabbi Kaplan of the Congregation Emanuel was selected to announce the benediction.

As interlude, there will be sung four hymns by a selected choir led by Miss Lee Kamp and accompanied by the high school orchestra of thirty instruments under the leadership of Prof. Spaulding. All the hymns will be of the familiar household character in which the entire audience readily can join and the words will be printed in a beautiful souvenir program now being prepared by The Freeman, upon which will be emblazoned the National flag and the flag of the city. The city flag, which never before has been used upon a public occasion, was designed by the city historian. It is of heavy silk with three broad bars of red, white and blue. Upon the central bar of white is embroidered the seal when Kingston was incorporated as a village in 1805 being a golden eagle with outstretched wings carrying in its talons a palm branch significant of the victory won by the citizens of Kingston in rebuilding the town after it was burned by the British forces under General John Vaughn in the War of the Revolution. The flag is said by the artists who made it to be the handsomest city flag in the country. Every person attending the meeting will be given one of these programs to take home as a memento of the anniversary. It will contain the names of all the city officials and in future years will be a most valuable souvenir. It was decided to invite all the pastors of all city churches, all former mayors and all the city officials to occupy seats upon the platform. The ushers will be selected from the young business men of the city.

Human Life Too Short.

By all the rules which nature observes among humbler mammals, 100 years ought to be a very ordinary age for a human being. Where is the mammal which, unless its life is cut short by accident or disease, fails to live to an age five times as great as the time it took to reach maturity? A fairly careful survey of the field answers "Nowhere." Indeed, the ratio of total life to maturity is more likely to be six, seven or eight, than five. But man, whose maturity cannot be placed at less than 20 or 22, thinks he is doing well when he passes threescore and ten, and only one out of many thousands reaches the age of one hundred.

To Keep Floors in Condition.

Finished floors can be kept in good condition with a comparatively small outlay of time and strength, but the method must be adapted to the kind of finish. Too often, an expensive and carefully applied finish is spoiled by neglect or lack of knowledge of the best methods and materials to use in cleaning. The parts of a floor that receive hardest wear, near doors, for instance, or in halls, can be protected by small rugs, and coconut fiber or other mats placed at all entrances to the house will reduce the mud and dirt which are carried in on shoes and which help to wear down all floor finishes.

Classic Phrase Becomes Slang.

Once in a blue moon a morsel of classic phraseology is preserved in the slang of the day. "Lashed to the mast" comes directly from the highest source of American poetry, Henry Wadsworth Longfellow. Today it means a person held against his will in an absolutely helpless position, at the mercy of the elements or of enemies. Longfellow used it in literally this fashion, too, as any school child will recall who has read the fate of the skipper's daughter in "The Wreck of the Hesperus."

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

New York, March 20. The stock market was irregular at the opening today. U. S. Steel opened ⅛ lower at 95, while Midvale Steel moved up one point to 32¾. B. R. T. dropped 1⅜ to 16½. Royal Dutch was ½ lower at 52⅝, while Mexican Petroleum rose ⅞ to 122⅝. New York Central yielded ¼ to 86, and New Haven was ⅝ higher at 18. Interborough Consolidated preferred moved up 1⅛ to 9½. Utah Copper rose ⅜ to 65 and Kennecot was ⅝ higher at 13.

Apprehension over the soldier bonus legislation and heavy profit taking caused a rather sharp break in the industrial list in the early afternoon. In the final hour, however, these issues showed a rallying tendency.

The market continued irregular during the forenoon, the rails standing out with substantial returns while the majority of the industrials were in supply.

The market closed strong, government bonds unchanged; railway and other bonds strong.

Finished Writing Important.

Now though it be undoubtedly true from what point of view that what a man has to say is of more importance than how he says it, and that modern criticism especially is more apt to be guided by its moral and even political sympathies than by aesthetic principles, it remains as true as ever that only those things have been said finally which have been said perfectly, and that this finished utterance is peculiarly the office of poetry, or of what, for want of some word as comprehensive as the German Dichtung, we are forced to call imaginative literature. Indeed, it may be said that, in whatever kind of writing, it is style alone that is able to hold the attention of the world long. Let a man be ever so rich in thought, if he is clumsy in the expression of it, his sinking, like that of an old Spanish treasureship, will be hastened by the very weight of his bullion, and perhaps, after the lapse of a century, some lucky diver fishes up his ingots and makes a fortune out of him.—James Russell Lowell.

Origin of the Salute.

Approximately 4,000,000 men and officers were in uniform during the World war and each of them had to salute the other. The enlisted men were told the salute was a mark of respect to the uniform, that they were saluting what the uniform stood for rather than the man who wore it. But of the 4,000,000 probably few ever knew the real meaning and origin of the salute. This mark of deference came down from the old feudal days, when lord and master and everybody else suspected each other and were always on the lookout for a sudden death thrust. So the subordinate on passing a superior was required to hold up his right hand to show that he was unarmed and that he harbored no plan of assassination. The superior then held up his right hand to show that he also meant no harm.

Discoverer of Rubber Tree.

The rubber tree was discovered by a Jesuit missionary, Father Marcelde Esperanca. He found it while on one of his apostolic journeys among the Cambeloa Indians of South America, and gave it the singular name of the seringuetra, because he remarked that the savages used the sap of this tree, which hardens quickly to make rude bottles that were shaped like a syringe.

Giant's Causeway.

The most interesting wonder in the world is Giant's Causeway, which stretches for four miles along the coast of County Antrim in Ireland. It is a collection of huge rocks which go down into the sea, and many reach a height of 80 feet. Legend says that the stones were put in such a neatly arranged position by an Irish giant in order to induce his enemy the Scots giant to come over and fight him. Another belief is that giants hurled these huge stones at one another. The idea that the causeway really did once extend to Scotland is strengthened by the fact that in Fingal's cave, in the island of Staffa, off the Scottish coast, stones exactly similar in appearance and arrangement are found.

COUNTY CITIZENS LEAGUE ANNUAL MEETING MARCH 22

For the last dozen years the Citizens' League of Ulster county has been the only organization in the county which has worked primarily for the enforcement of the excise laws. It also caused a great change in the public sentiment of the county.

It came into being when the Ashokan reservoir and aqueduct were being constructed and there was unprecedented lawlessness and crime in the county.

For several years considerable money was received and expended in the county, largely in securing the arrest and conviction of law breakers, and closing up dens of infamy.

During later years it has been ready to receive, and has received many complaints against illegal selling of intoxicants, and has turned these cases over to the district attorney, the civic league of Albany, and the federal authorities.

The twelfth annual meeting of the organization is to be held at the Dr. C. O Sahler Sanitarium Wednesday, March 22, at 11 a. m.

After the business is transacted there will be addresses by executive officers of the county and city. The following have consented to speak: Judge J. M. Fowler, District Attorney F. G. Traver, Mayor W. P. Crane, City Judge Harry Schirick, Chief of Police J. Allan Wood, Dr. Chandler, head of the state mounted police, and Police Commissioner the Rev. Dr. F. B. Seeley.

They have been asked especially to tell those who are in the ranks how they can assist them in enforcing the 18th amendment.

It promises to be a great meeting and one that will lead to far reaching results.

Men and women in every part of the county who are interested in the enforcement of law, whether they have been identified with this or any temperance organization or not, are cordially invited to attend.

Dinner at 80 cents per plate will be served at 1 p. m., after which the speeches will continue.

The citizens of the county and city should make it a great gathering.

That dinner may be prepared for all, it would be wise to communicate at once with the Rev. P. N. Chase, 15 Green street. (Phone 375-R.)

Edward A. Smiley has been president of this organization since the death of Dr. Sahler and Dr. Chase has been secretary and treasurer for eleven years.

P. N. CHASE.

After publicly announcing that they had broken their engagement, made in December, Miss Helen Outerbridge, of New York, and Edgar T. Appleby, amateur billiard champion, eloped and have been married. The wedding came as a distinct surprise to relatives of both parties.

Surely Would.

Many a surgeon would be insulted if you called him the village cut-up.

Whaleskin Valuable.

Whaleskin is so thick that it can be split into several layers, each as stout as ox hide, and it is excellent for making boots, bags, harness or belting. The usefulness of the whale in this respect is not confined to his outer skin. The stomach furnishes a leather as soft and as strong as the best kid. Another important thing about the whale is that the whole of his skin is good. The skins of cows, horses and other land animals furnish a comparatively small quantity of leather, for only certain portions of the hide are of the right quality.

The Hyacinth.

The hyacinth is like a balustrade placed upside down. A bed of hyacinths resembles a mass of balusters. Thus that great invention of the renaissance, the balustrade, allows us to gain through it a glimpse of nature. This ray of art, the flower, this delicate inspiration, unknowingly requires the intelligence of men to develop its possibilities.—Auguste Rodin.

Hair Often Ruined By Careless Washing

Soap should be used very carefully. If you want to keep your hair looking its best. Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and ruins it.

The best thing for steady use is Mulsified cocoanut oil shampoo (which is pure and greaseless), and is better than anything else you can use.

Two or three teaspoonfuls of Mulsified in a cup or glass with a little warm water is sufficient to cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in. It makes an abundance of rich creamy lather, which rinses out easily, removing every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excess oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves the scalp soft, and the hair fine and silky, bright, lustrous, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get Mulsified cocoanut oil shampoo at any pharmacy, it's very cheap, and a few ounces will supply every member of the family for months. Be sure your druggist gives you Mulsified.—Advertisement.

History of Road Building.

It is said that the Carthaginians were the first people to use a system of road paving, but the Romans were the most famous road-makers. The name of John Macadam will always be associated with the roads because he invented a form of road now known as "tar-macadam." Wood-paving was first used in Russia and introduced to Britain in 1836.

Some One Might Eat It.

Robert was attending a party the other day, and part of the refreshments consisted of fruit salad. He does not care for it, and, not wishing to hurt his hostess' feelings, said: "I don't believe I want this salad, but I'll take it home with me, and maybe grandmother or the dog will eat it."
